Attn: Chair, Police Services Board, Community Policing Advisory Committee (or Mayor)

RE: INVITATION – EAST REGION MUNICIPAL POLICING GOVERNANCE AND ADVISORY CONFERENCE - NORTH GRENVILLE COMMUNITY CENTRE
(KEMPTVILLE), OCTOBER 23rd 2012

On behalf of the Command Staff of East Region, I wish to invite you and your respective Police Service Board members or Community Policing Advisory Committee members (as the case may be) to the OPP East Region 2012 Policing Governance and Advisory Conference. In the absence of the existence of a PSB or CPAC, this invitation is cordially extended to the mayor and/or chief administrative officer for those municipalities.

The Conference will be held on Tuesday, October 23rd 2012. Registration and refreshments begin at 9:00 a.m. at the North Grenville Community Centre located at 285 County Rd. 44 Kemptville, ON. (see map attached). The official welcoming will start at 9:30 a.m.

The content of this year's conference includes an information-sharing workshop pertaining to current municipal policing issues. Because this year's agenda will include a presentation from OPP Municipal Policing Bureau specific to understanding OPP municipal policing costs, the conference has been opened up to include Community Policing Advisory Committees (CPAC's) so that our non-contract locations can also participate in this information sharing session. For those municipalities that have neither a PSB nor a CPAC, the respective mayors and or chief administrative officers are encouraged to attend this information sharing/ networking opportunity.

There will also be a presentation by Dr Hugh Russell with respect to Community Mobilization that may be of interest to both section 10 PSA (contract) locations as well as 5.1 PSA (non contract) locations.

There will be an opportunity for a question and answer period at the end of each keynote session in hopes of generating a healthy discussion with respect to the current issues with the goal of determining solutions that facilitate the best policing partnership possible. Municipalities should have received a document titled "Understanding Ontario Provincial Police (OPP) Municipal Policing Costs", which was mailed out from OPP Municipal Policing Bureau last month. Staff from the Municipal Policing Bureau will be in attendance at the conference and will be in a position to discuss or explain the content of this document.

Please RSVP by Friday, October 5th, 2012 with responses to include all the names of your Board/Committee members who will be attending. I encourage as many members as possible to attend to facilitate first hand sharing of ideas and information.

August 28, 2012

SEP 07 2012

To Mayors and Councils,

We are writing to ask that you ~~and your~~ Council endorse a day of recognition for the many people who work providing care to children in your community. This year will mark the 12th Anniversary of our Awareness Day which recognizes the education, skills, commitment and dedication of Early Childhood Educators and Child Care Staff.

The Ontario Coalition for Better Child Care (OCBCC), the Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) and our other labour partners representing child care workers across Ontario are asking that Wednesday, October 24, 2012 be proclaimed as Child Care Worker & Early Childhood Educator Appreciation Day in accordance with the attached resolution.

Many groups are recognized by way of Municipal Resolution. Such a day allows the community to recognize the work of various groups and to acknowledge the contributions they make in the lives of community members.

Many children, families and communities benefit from the work of child care workers. Child care also contributes to the economic life of communities. Research shows the many economic benefits accrued from affordable, accessible high quality child care. These benefits come from the number of people employed in the child care industry and because the availability of child care allows parents to work and to contribute to the economic life of society.

Even if your Council does not issue official proclamations, there are many ways for your municipality to participate in and celebrate this special day. We ask your Council to sponsor public announcements, display our posters and distribute buttons. Many municipalities also organize events and contests for the day or have Councillors or the Mayor participate in events hosted by child care centres within the municipality. A list of ideas and examples is attached.

We hope that your proclamation of this day of appreciation, or your active support, will encourage and promote a day of community recognition for child care workers. Please fax the attached order to request posters and buttons to help you raise awareness and celebrate.

Please advise us of your participation in this day of recognition so that we can acknowledge your community's role in celebrating child care workers across Ontario on October 24th. Please direct any correspondence on proclamations and/or celebration activities to the attention of Sarah Declerck, by mail: CUPE Regional Office, 80 Commerce Valley Drive East, Markham, ON L3T 0B2, or by fax: 905-739-4001.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Fred Hahn

AMO Report to Members
 Highlights of the August 2012 Board Meeting

To keep members informed, AMO provides updates on important issues considered at regular AMO Board of Directors' meetings. Highlights of the August 18, 2012 Board meeting follow:

AMO Project: Towards Full Cost Recovery – Best Practices in Cost Recovery for Municipal Water and Wastewater Services

Gary Scandlan, Associate Director, Watson & Associates Economists Ltd. presented an overview of the findings and observations of surveyed member municipalities that have made or are moving toward full cost recovery and life cycle asset management for their municipal water and wastewater services.

The Board received the presentation and provided feedback to the consultant on the draft report. The final report will be released in the fall accompanied by an abridged roll-up guide.

AMO Project: Benefits of Long Term Municipal Infrastructure Planning

Nigel Bellchamber, General Manager, Ontario Municipal Administrators' Association, presented the initial results of a high level pilot study that looks at the fiscal sustainability of several municipalities by examining their long-term planning and asset management. The project also examines impacts on debt levels, the use of reserves and any gaps that may exist between needs and resources. It is expected that a report to members on the initial case studies will be available by the end of 2012.

Infrastructure Updates

The Board was provided updates on two infrastructure items – AMO's submission to Infrastructure Canada regarding the Federal Long-Term Infrastructure Plan and the results of AMO's 2012 Infrastructure Survey that was conducted this summer.

Ministry of the Environment Regulation Proposal: Post-Consumer Waste Pharmaceuticals and Sharps

The Ministry of the Environment has posted a proposed regulation for post-consumer disposal of waste pharmaceuticals and sharps (including syringes). The regulation will replace a voluntary, industry led program, which ends September 30, 2012, with a mandatory extended producer responsibility (EPR) based program effective as of October 1, 2012. Comments on the proposed regulation are required by September 17, 2012.

The Board approved the key issues that will be drafted into AMO's submission including that collection should only occur by pharmacies only in the new EPR program; that there is a well-constructed consumer accessibility and public awareness campaign on the drop-off locations (pharmacies); and that there is full transparency of program results with accompanying audits.

Denbigh ambulance service saved

Steve Newman, Renfrew Mercury
April 18, 2012

After much lobbying by municipal officials, the business community and members of the public, the 30-year-old Denbigh Ambulance Service has survived.

According to an April 11 decision of Lennox & Addington County council, the ambulance service will be retained, but reduced from around-the-clock service to 12 hours, seven days a week.

The Denbigh ambulance is situated in the northeast corner of Lennox and Addington County, within the municipality of Addington Highlands. From there, the ambulance also responds to calls from the adjoining counties of Hastings, Renfrew and Frontenac.

"Any reduction in service causes us concern as far as availability of resources across the region," said Mike Nolan, Renfrew County's emergency services director.

"It's certainly not to the benefit of Renfrew County."

As in other areas, there is a system of reimbursement for paramedic service. For each call, the servicing county is paid by the serviced county.

Nolan also noted that Lennox & Addington had been seeking higher reimbursement to help offset its actual costs for service outside Lennox & Addington.

Coincidentally, the decision comes shortly before the commencement in June 2012 of an additional single advanced-care paramedic in the Greater Madawaska Township area. This additional Renfrew County staff member will be available for community service and as a first-responder to 9-1-1 calls 12 hours a day.

Several times over the past few years, it appeared Lennox & Addington County might eliminate the Denbigh ambulance service.

Opposition to that move included a group of concerned citizens known as the Griffith and Matawatchan Ambulance Network.

Network chair Dave Parkes said he's unsure exactly what the implications are of the Lennox & Addington County decision April 11, but said, "Based on what I've heard so far, I'm optimistic that there will be a reasonable level of service."

TIMEFRAME UNCERTAIN

The time frame has yet to be determined for making the transition from 24/7 to 12/7, and for transferring the other 12 hours coverage to elsewhere within the county, said Lennox & Addington chief administrative officer Larry Keech.

Nor has the county yet decided on a specific 12-hour schedule out of Denbigh.

Reallocation of the other 12 hours of ambulance coverage elsewhere in Lennox & Addington, said Keech, may result in minimal savings, although it's possible there could be additional costs.

"The decision is not based on savings," said Keech.

Those pushing for a maintained 24/7 service out of Denbigh included Denbigh resident and Addington Highlands councillor Tony Fritsch.

The eight members of Lennox & Addington County council include Addington Highland's Reeve Henry Hogg and Deputy-Reeve Bill Cox of Addington, and Warden Bill Lowry of Loyalist Township.

After hearing of the Lennox & Addington County's decision, Fritsch noted in an email to supporters: "The intense lobbying and support of our community, neighbours, businesses, AH (Addington Highlands) council and other organizations has been appreciated and helpful in efforts to retain an ambulance service."

He suggests the news isn't the best news, but not bad considering Lennox & Addington senior staff had supported closing the Denbigh ambulance base (as recommended by consultant IBI).

In speaking to The Mercury, Fritsch said, "The ambulance service is very dear to everyone's hearts in our area. People have been lobbying aggressively to keep it there 24/7 ... There certainly was a fear of losing the service completely."

"It's better than nothing, although I would have preferred to keep the status quo," said Griffith resident Sandra Downs, who's a member of the Griffith and Matawatchan Ambulance Network and the Denbigh Ambulance Network.

"It is limited service, but we still have it."

Greater Madawaska Mayor Peter Emon had mixed reaction.

"At least they're keeping a presence in the area, which is the first thing we wanted," said Emon.

"But it's not much better because it still gives them the option of dropping it on a whim."

Last September, Emon told Renfrew County council that the ideal solution would be for the four counties to fund a Denbigh-area station, whose annual operating costs of $700,000 were expected to rise to nearly $1 million by 2014.

Emon noted that half of operating costs are covered by Lennox & Addington, and half by the Ontario government, meaning each county would pay $125,000 with the new partnership model.

"Which is pretty cheap to keep that service in place," said Emon last September.

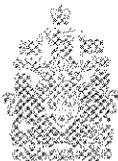

The Denbigh ambulance service celebrates its 30th anniversary July 8 at Denbigh Heritage Park.

There will be a barbecue, cake, music, and display of ambulance service memorabilia.

Dear Ms. Reith:

The office of the Prime Minister has forwarded to me a copy of your correspondence of August 1, 2012, concerning Bill C-356, An Act Respecting a National Strategy for Dementia.

I recognize that Alzheimer's disease and related dementias affect many Canadians and their families. These illnesses have considerable impact on quality of life, formal and informal care-giving systems, and families and communities.

The Government of Canada is supporting efforts to reduce Alzheimer's disease. Through the Canadian Institutes of Health Research (CIHR), our government has invested more than $119.1 million in research on Alzheimer's disease and related dementias since 2006, including approximately $26.1 million in 2010-11 alone. On January 28, 2011, I announced funding of $8.6 million, through the CIHR, for 44 new research projects on Alzheimer's disease. As mentioned in Budget 2011, our government is also allocating up to $100 million to support Brain Canada's efforts to develop new diagnostics, treatments and cures for brain disorders, including Alzheimer's disease. Canadian researchers in this field are exceptional and we are pleased to support excellence in research. Federally supported research funding will facilitate the discovery of ways to prevent, diagnose and treat this devastating illness.

The CIHR has recognized the global need to act on the rising tide of Alzheimer's disease and related dementias by establishing the International Collaborative Research Strategy for Alzheimer's Disease. The Strategy will encourage scientific collaboration between
